Diwali

Diwali is called the festival of lights. We clean our homes thoroughly before this festival.

On the day of the festival, we light diyas and pray. We decorate our homes with colourful rangolis, marigold garlands, and many lights. This festival comes every October-November years. This is Lord Rama's festival.

From a Casual Observer to Footballer

Football, the beautiful game, has a way of captivating hearts and minds around the world.

For me, my journey into the world of football began with a simple curiosity and desire to explore new passions. Little did I know that this sport would soon become an integral part of my life, filling me with excitement, camaraderie, and love for the game like no other.

It all started one faithful day, when I was flipping through channels on my TV. I stumbled upon a Champions League match. Intrigued by the energy and intensity on the field, I decided to give it a chance.

As I watched the game unfold, I was drawn into a world of passion, skills and pure adrenaline.

The players' dedication and the ~~crowd's~~ ^{crowd's} unwavering.

My journey from being a casual observer
to a football fanatic has begun.

FAVOURITE PERSON IN MY LIFE

"Nothing is sweeter than a child who can't wait to be a big sibling".

Whenever I see others playing with their siblings. I wished for a sister. Finally on 18th April 2020, (when I was 9 years old) she came to my life "My sister". She was like a cute little doll. She is the best thing that happened to me for ever. I still remember the moment I met her for the first time. Due to the corona pandemic I had no entry to the hospital. Then after discharge from the hospital she came home. I welcomed them. I was extremely happy ♡. I became an elder sister. After that I changed my childish behaviour, I started self study and helped my parents during lockdown period.

Now she is 3.6 years old; became the naughtiest girl ☺ in the world. She always irritates me, fight with me. But you are the heart of our family.

Love you my dear sister

WINTER, WINTER

Winter is here and santa is here
Snow falling on trees and mountains
Freezing cold wind blowing through the town, a cup of hot chocolate
will be nice.

Children's making snow angels,
Throwing snow balls and making snowman
A snowman round and white,
A carrot for nose,
Stones for eyes and buttons sticks for hand and a scarf that the snowman does not get a cold.

Her battle against inequalities

In shadows cast by biased light,
A girl emerges, her silent fight
Struggles woven, a complex of fears,
Yet strength within, it perseveres.

Densel dreams, a silenced voice,
She rises from a limited choice.
In the corridors of inequality,
A girl stands, demanding equality.

She faces storms social disdain,
Yet in her eyes, resilience reigns.

Against the current, she boldly strides,
Defying norms, breaking social myths.

Rights, her armor, she proudly wears,
Fighting battles, breaking unfair snares.
Education's beacon, a guiding flame,
In her world, equality proclaims.

No longer confined, she takes her stand,
A girl empowered, hand in hand.
Through struggles faced and battle won,
Her journey echoes, like a rising sun.
She shall shine always in the
battle field,
As the indestructible soul in the battle field.

The Girl
And Her Magical
Teddy Bear

Once upon a time there lived a girl named Anna. She was very shy.

She had no friends. But she had a teddy bear. She called him Mr. Teddy.

Mr. Teddy was the only close friend she had. Anna took him every where.

One day Anna & Mr. Teddy were playing in the garden when Anna accidentally dropped Mr. Teddy in a pit.

She was very sad and cried a lot. But to her surprise Mr. Teddy got back up.

Anna was very happy that she got a friend that she could talk to.

Anna learned a lot from Mr. Teddy like how to be brave and confident.

Soon little by little Anna made friends. Mr. Teddy and Anna's friend got along well.

One morning when Anna woke up, Mr. Teddy was lying without talking.

Anna missed teddy's
voice but she remembered
everything he has thought her.

Mr. Teddy was not just a teddy to Anna he was her best friend.

Here ends the story of Anna & her teddy.
